

Advanced Video Film

The primary purpose of the course is to offer the most motivated and interested students leaving our basic or beginning Video/Film class more advanced learning pathways and academic environments in the communicative arts. A second goal is to engage them further in exploration of their own creative and expressive potential using more complex technologies while introducing them to advance video/film processes and techniques.