Social & Emotional Learning

Falcon Feature

Along with the other schools in the SDUHSD, Torrey Pines High School is hard at work to integrate social-emotional learning as an essential part of our school culture. The goal of this initiative is to help students build confidence, resilience, and independence as they work toward their post-secondary plans. In our fast paced, high-pressure world, it's critical that our Falcons learn self-awareness, self-management and develop long, lasting relationship skills. In the coming months you will see the formation of our Social-Emotional Learning Collaborative and better integration between our School Site Council and parent/student advisory groups. Student Summit 12/19

On 12/19 select TPHS students will participate in a Student Summit hosted by our Superintendent, Dr. Robert Haley. This summit will include principals and students from all SDUHSD sites. This summit provide a platform for a diverse group of student voices. Students will get the chance to share insights, address challenges, and connect on important issues that affect all of us. This is a great opportunity for our Falcons to help make TPHS a more connected community.

School Safety

This week our pathway programs were reviewed by a rep from the CDE as part of a State-wide initiative to support CTE. Our pathways received high praise for their diversity, their strong teacher leadership, and their inclusion of the essential elements of a high quality pathway. We are proud of the work our students are producing in these courses, and we look forward to continuing to increase opportunities for our Falcons to experience real, relevant, and rigorous learning. Did You Know?

Next week our PALS students will visit period 4 classes with this years No Place for Hate Resolution of Respect pledge sheets. It is our hope that the classrooms will take the time to discuss what this resolution truly means and how it correlates with our TP Pledge and what it means to be a Falcon. Please keep the conversation going at home - ask your student about this pledge and what it means to them.
